

George Garcia

Objective: To continue to use my knowledge and experience in Forklift operations to further my professional career. With 5 years of accident free operation and with continuing safety refresher courses, I hope to make a positive addition to any prospective employer. I am also self motivated in learning the correct and current methods of using and operating other lift related equipment (i.e. Pickers, Floor Lifts, etc.)

- Title - Overhead Crane Operator

I am licensed and certified on the overhead crane. My job was to keep ahead of the person making the cement molds. As the crane operator, I had to extract the mold already made and press to the oven table, disengage the mold, lift the mold without damaging the mold, grabbing the new set up which includes, new wire and the pallet (all metal). I would engage and lock and move back to the ready position. I worked with 3 different sized molds and kept the flow steady. I operated the crane from 2005- 2008. I also did other jobs such as driving the water truck, making man holes, box covers, septic tanks, bridges, parking blocks and making the frames for the molds with rebar. I work well with others, am a fast learner, dependable and safety is always first. I am also certified in heavy forklift operation and other heavy equipment.

- Title - Warehouse Forklift Operator

I am a licensed forklift driver/picker. I can drive all types of forklifts and heavy machinery. I am capable to working the receiving area. I started as an assembly line worker, then moved to the production line as a material handler. From there on to a slow pace line which progressed to a more modern and faster production line. As a picker, I maintained the supplies and support that the production lines required in order to perform their work in a timely and cost effective manner. I went on to set company records for consistency in my work and completing orders on time. I then transferred to the warehouse and learned basic computer skills. I was given the responsibility for the foreign and domestic staging of material shipments. In performing successful and complete shipments, I have learned additional computer skills. I have successfully maintained the duties of being the forklift driver, with an excellent attendance record for 5 years.
